1977

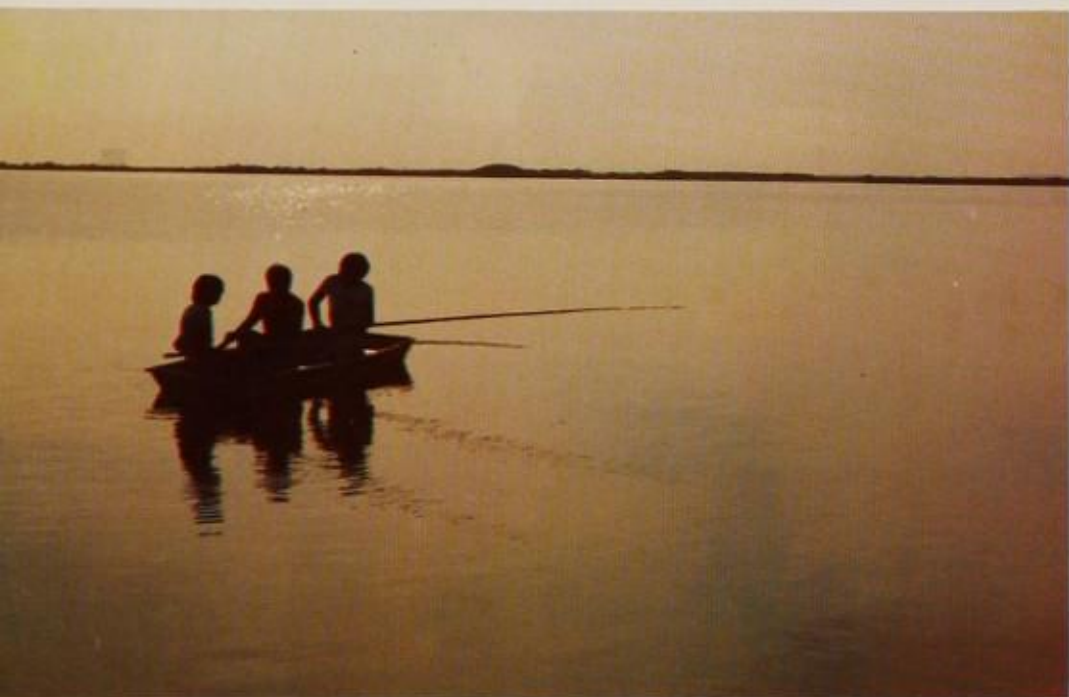

*Do you know
where you're going to?
Do you like the things
that life is showing you?
Where are you going to,
do you know?*

*Do you get what you're hoping for?
When you look behind you there's no open door.*

*What are you hoping for,
do you know?*

Once we were standing still in time,

Chasing the fantasies that filled our minds.

And you knew how I loved you but my spirit was free,

laughing at the questions that you once asked of me.

*Now looking back
at all we planned,
We let so many dreams
slip through our hands.*

Why must we wait so long before we see How sad the answers to those questions can be?

*Do you know where you're going to?
Do you like the things
that life is showing you?
Where are you going to, do you know?*

On Top and Looking Forward

"Watch out! Don't you know who I am? I'm special. I'm a SENIOR. I go to all the pep rallies. . . . Please, Mr. C., could we have just one more Senior privilege?"

What could beat being a Senior? Seniors could sit around in the Mall during school without constantly being asked to "let me see your hall pass." They could blame temporary periods of lacking initiative on "Senioritis." They could get out of class and sneak to Burger King by asking to go see Mrs. Chewning to "discuss college opportunities." They could get away with anything.

Everything that happened at Astronaut happened mainly for the Seniors - or at least, that was how THEY saw it. The Sophomores planned the Homecoming Dance for the SENIORS; the Juniors held Prom for the SENIORS; any underclassman at Grad Nite was there only by special invitation from none other than - a SENIOR. After twelve long years of effort, didn't they deserve to be on top?

But believe it or not, even the dauntless Senior was sometimes unsure. Attempts to decide on post-graduation plans left many in complete confusion. Future? College? Career? Apply? Major? Financial what? Money? PCS and ACT, ABCDEFG - HELP!!!

"Goodbye, locker, we've seen a lot of great times, haven't we? There's the Mall and the good old lunch table. And the Pit, right in the middle of everything. That darn food machine over there - that's the one that always stole my change when I was a lowly Sophomore. Oh, Astro, I . . . I have to leave you now. I'll miss you. . . . But listen, you'll be okay, you'll make it without me - there'll be others like me."

Senior Hall of Fame

Climax of Twelve Years of Hard Work . . .

Teachers nominated Seniors on such abilities as leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and dependability. Those nominees receiving enough votes were placed on a final ballot and voted on by the faculty. The top ten earned the honor of being placed in the 1977 Astronaut High School Senior Hall of Fame.

The 1977 Golden Aerie Staff wishes to express appreciation and gratitude to our sponsor, Annette Doerr, for all her hard work and assistance in making this yearbook possible. Thanks are also extended to Bryn Alan Studios, Taylor Publishing Company and their representative, Jim Bolin, for the photography and publication of this yearbook.

Golden Aerie Staff of '77

Are They Bionic?

"Busy" is the word to use to describe an eleventh-grader. The annual Junior Class Magazine Sale started the year off. For two weeks, Juniors sold subscriptions to friends, family, neighbors, and any other victim that came their way. The result - $2,400 - was used to buy decorations for the Junior-Senior Prom held in May. This amount was over twice that earned by last year's Juniors, and was the highest profit made with magazine sales throughout Brevard County's high schools.

The Juniors' next duty was one not as interesting as working on Prom. Once again, English teachers waged their yearly war on eleventh-grade students, and assigned that most dreaded of tortures - the TERM PAPER. Is it possible that instructors enjoyed going to bed at 11:00 p.m., savoring the knowledge that their students would be up at least five more hours typing, sorting through hundreds of scribbled notecards, drinking gallons of coffee, and making up sources to list on their bibliography page? Only they can know for sure.

Free time was filled with a variety of activities. Concerts, clubs, athletics, dances, and parties kept Juniors jumping. Parents, becoming more used to the idea of their children driving, loaned out the car keys with increasing frequency, sometimes without even giving the usual lengthy lecture on "safe driving practices."

With all the odd jobs thrown their way and responsibilities put on them, the Junior Class still managed to hold up and make it through with flying colors. Just a little more practice at looking down on underclassmen, and they'll be ready to assume the position of another outstanding Senior Class at A.H.S.

Wise Fools?

What a position! Not the lowest, not the highest, not even the middle. No wonder Sophomores felt lost at times. They were pulled both ways in the "Sophomore Syndrome" - trying to act mature enough to look down on Freshmen, while also trying to fight the temptation to behave like Freshmen!

For tenth-graders, this was a year of beginning. Sophs began to date a little more, stay out a little later, and perfect a little bit the familiar question: "Dad, may I borrow the car?" They increased their involvement in school activities and organizations, and became slightly more at ease with the school, the faculty, and even with those big, bad Seniors.

A major event of the year was learning to drive. The Driver's Ed. practice range was the scene of many a demonstration of Sophomore ingenuity. Who else could think of a way to drag-race when the fastest you dared go was 15 m.p.h.? Who else could force a car to move when a traffic cone was wrapped around the wheel axle?

Tenth-graders made a lot of impressions. To a Senior, Sophomore means a Freshman who can tie his shoelace. To a teacher, Sophomore means someone to be patient with. To a coach, Sophomore means the developing star of future teams. In Latin, Sophomore means "wise fool." And this year's Sophomores were wise enough to fool all of us into thinking they're the greatest thing around.

Lance Corbridge, Kelly Hoffman, and Mark Peterson made excellent examples of hard-working sophomores.

Frantic!

"Quit acting like a FRESHMAN!"

"You wouldn't believe my last class. Nothing but a bunch of little FRESHMEN!"

"I sure am glad I don't have third lunch; almost everyone who has it is a FRESHMAN!"

Were ninth-graders really all that bad? After all, they did have a few good points. They were patient when power-mad Seniors butted into lines ahead of them. They saved Sophomores from being the youngest in the school. Having waited so long to be in high school, they were the most enthusiastic yellers at War Eagle games. They even LIKED the cafeteria food!

Seeing an anxious Freshman trying to find a class before the tardy bell rang could bring a smile to the face of even the most dignified Senior. The first few weeks of school were mass confusion. Freshmen learned the true meaning of despair when they realized that the friend they'd been following to class was just as lost as everyone else was.

Things calmed down once the Freshmen had learned their way around. Until . . .

"On your mark, get set, GO! The Race to the Lunch Line is on! Mark takes an early lead . . . but there's Mary, moving up as the pack rounds the corner by the water fountain and heads for the stairs. Mary is making her move - but here comes Jim, looking strong! Jim leaps ahead! But can he hold that pace? They're coming out of the stairs and into the home stretch! Look - moving out from the mob - it's Bill! He's catching Jim - Jim looks tired but is holding on to his lead - they're almost to the lunch line - it's Jim - it's Bill - it's - SPAGHETTI?! Who wants spaghetti?!"

Ninth-graders never let school get too dull. They could always be counted on to do SOMETHING. There can be no doubt about it - Astronaut just wouldn't be the same without our Freshmen.

Homecoming
Court

The Year of the War Eagle

Homecoming began to the strains of "You've Said It All," as the yearly parade marched down Garden Street in time with the War Eagle Band. Surf Club came through in its usual fashion, winning the float competition for the third year in a row, with Keyettes coming in second. Chi Kappa and Anchor Club tied for third.

"The Year of the War Eagle," theme for Homecoming, was exemplified in an outstanding effort by the football team, trouncing Spruce Creek 51-0 on Friday night. During the halftime ceremonies, Principal Abe Collinsworth crowned Consuelo Maggio the 1976 Homecoming Queen. Her court consisted of five popular and pretty seniors, and one outstanding representative from each of the other classes.

Homecoming

"River" Entertains

Swirling gowns, colorful leisure suits, corsages, music, dancing. The night we'd waited for finally came. Many couples went out to dinner before the dance, setting a magical mood which lingered throughout the night. The rock group River provided dancing music, playing such favorites as "Sweet Home Alabama" and "Tiny Dancer." The Homecoming Court was honored throughout the evening, beginning with a slow dance led by Queen Consuelo Maggio and her escort, Bill Delaney. The Student Government Association and Mr. Bob Ross were commended for their organization of the week's festivities, putting together an excellent Homecoming in four short weeks. For many Seniors, remnants of corsages and lingering memories were all that remained afterward, insuring that Homecoming '76 will be remembered for many years to come.

A Fresh Start

Dynamic War Eagles entertained fans this year with a new director, a new size, and a new sound. Marching 160 strong, the band provided a variety of exciting half-time shows with several musical themes, from patriotic to Spanish. The striking drum majors for this year were Vicki Mewborn and Phillip Youmans (pictured top). They and Kenneth Nickse, band director (pictured below), succeeded in putting together a fantastic marching band. They showed much enthusiasm and spirit at pep rallies, cross country meets, concerts, and parades, besides their regular Friday night performances at football games. These activities took hours of practice, resulting in straight superior ratings from judges at the district marching contest. Other responsibilities included the fund raising that goes on behind any organization. Over and above the uniform payments, new music, and many extras, the band worked hard in hopes of earning enough money to tour several high schools throughout the country.

Golden Girls Add Sparkle to Astronaut's Band

Vivacious Golden Girls appeased crowds during half time with sensational new shows. Along with Co-captain Toni Turner, Captains Leslie Carpenter and Consuelo Maggio (pictured top), led a corps of six others in impressive fire, flag, and dance routines. This year they also featured solo twirlers, each giving a superb show of their talents.

The majorettes (pictured left), were a very dedicated group, spending hours practicing together to come out looking simply spectacular on the field.

"I Believe in Music" - Advocated by Spirited Singers

Musicians achieving the highest positions in choral work were made members of the honorary group, "Eagles." They present recitals two times a year and help out in fund raising activities.

Demonstrating their singing ability, the "Astronauts" hold spring and winter concerts. Besides providing entertainment for shoppers at the malls, they participated in a massive choir at Disney World.

Music Has Many Followers

What a group! Hawks, Astronauts, Peacemaker, Eagles. With diligence and determination, individuals combined their efforts to produce a good choral group.

Parents and interested persons, who formed the Chorale Society Booster Club, sponsored the annual variety show. Its purpose was to promote cultural experience between schools located in North Brevard.

Peace Be to Those Who Sing

Hard work and practice are what made the Peacemakers a fine group of singers. Under the direction of Delores Ellis, they provided music ranging from great old-time hits to today's modern sounds. Tricky little dance steps, choreographed by Willie Turner, added to the excitement of their performances.

This year Astronaut had the honor of hosting the District Festival for area groups similar to the Peacemakers. The contest was held in the auditorium to determine which groups would go on to state competition.

Song and dance routines were shared with North Brevard schools and civic clubs on tour day. Fine entertainment characterized this talented group.

Never a Dull Moment

Most people believe that all cheerleaders do is cheer. The 1976-1977 Varsity Cheerleaders not only led cheers at all football and basketball games, but they also attended cross-country meets, wrestling matches, track meets, and baseball games as well. Aside from the "cheering" part of their duties, other activities included planning all pep rallies, selling spirit ribbons, sponsoring sign painting contests, and decorating the locker room for different teams. Their effectiveness was seen by the abundance of school spirit that resulted directly from the cheerleaders.

These hard working girls ended their "season" in March during a yearly competition. All the cheerleaders in Brevard County performed and were judged by professionals, who chose first, second, and third place squads. This important event culminated the busy year for these cheerleaders, who can truthfully say that "there's never a dull moment for Astronaut's Varsity Cheerleaders!"

Working Towards a Winning Season

Beginning last year with tryouts, ten sophomore girls were selected as Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. During the summer they had fund raising projects to buy uniforms.

Along with cheering at the J. V. games, they also helped Varsity Cheerleaders boost the school spirit at pep rallies and sold programs at varsity games.

Spirited First Year for Freshman

This was the first year for freshman sports and, naturally, spirit leaders were needed. These girls were very active and helped cheer their teams on to victory. They had bake sales, sold pom-poms and stationery to raise money.

Honorary Club Has Busy Year

Selling Homecoming Mums, NHS began their busy year. A student exchange day was developed among NHS members in Brevard County and two AHS members spent a day at Cocoa Beach High School. Plans for a wide-scale second semester exchange day between all Cape Coast Schools was proposed.

On November 4, 1976, induction was held for new members. During second semester, juniors, as well as seniors, swelled membership ranks. Parents attended the induction held in the library, followed by refreshments.

Human Computers

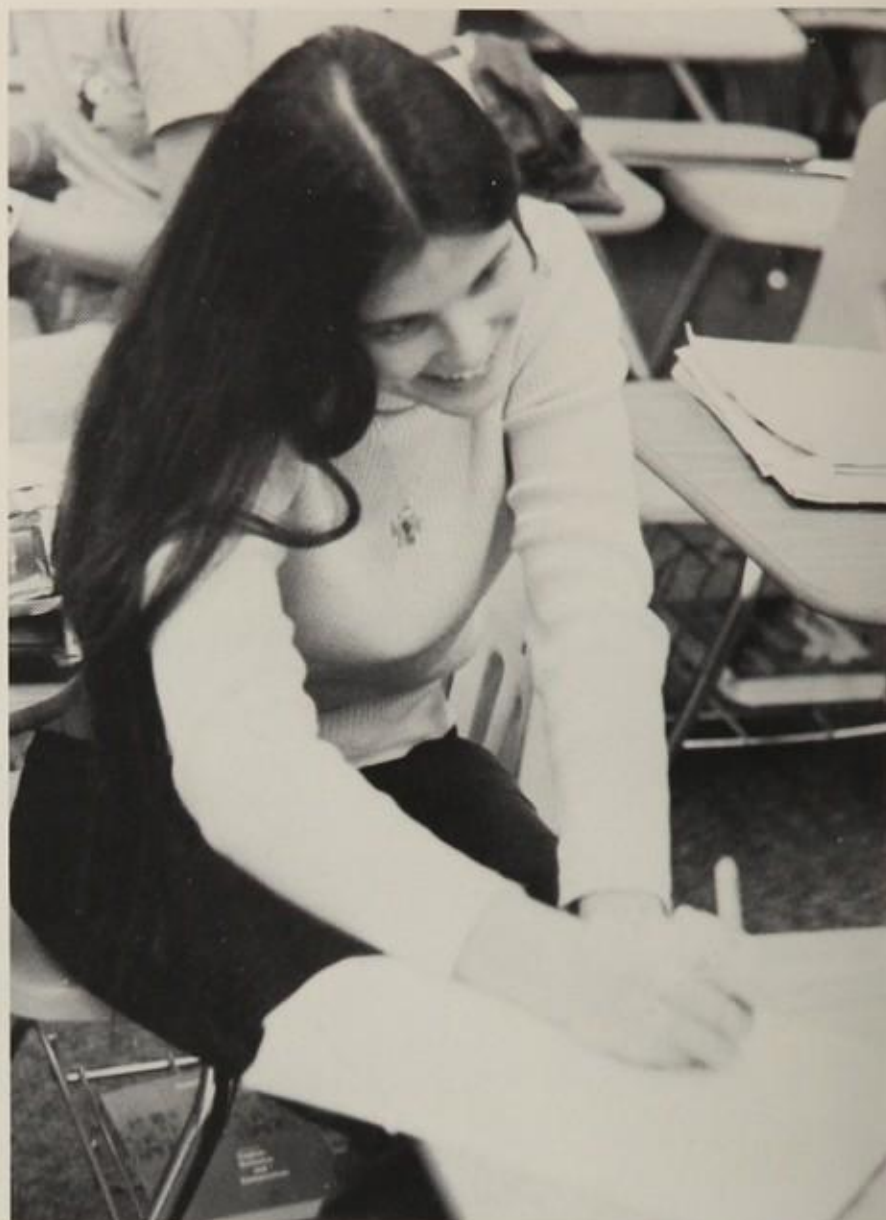

Skilled mathematicians were asked to join Mu Alpha Theta. This first year honorary club was made up of students who excelled in college preparatory math courses. Selling War Eagle pens was a prosperous project that was popular with the whole student body. Speakers from various schools came to give lectures on developing careers in the area of mathematics.

Eventful School Year Portrayed in "Talon"

Experience made the difference on the '76-77 "Talon." The large number of seniors on the expanded staff encouraged a higher standard of work. Emphasis was placed on a better quality of writing as editors and reporters alike attempted to cover all phases of student life. The "Talon" was distributed free of charge to the student body once a month.

Creatively Writing the Moods and Expressions of the World

Short stories, essays, poems, and art work composed the Literary Anthology, published annually by AHS students under the guidance of Pat Freeman. Anyone could submit an original work for possible acceptance into the Anthology. After close deliberation, staff members decided which pieces would be published.

The Anthology staff compiled a quality collection of creative works, and at the same time, honored outstanding artists at Astronaut.

There's No Business Like Show Business

To get the show on the road, members had to spend a lot of spare time creating and planning. With the help of their sponsor, Sharon Reynolds, they entered the Vero Beach Speech Tournament and placed in the finals. The one-act melodrama "She Was Only A Farmers Daughter," pictured center, right and left, was performed by a few selected members: Jenny Workum, Sharon Hall, Patricia Mier, Preston Prevatt, Dan McNerney, Joan Brapham, Diana Goodmon and Kurt Saltmer.

Intellectual Contests Debut

Quick thinking and spontaneous reactions contributed to the success of Astronaut's first year War Eagle Brain Team. As well as being Brevard County's newest member, the team attended its Brain Bowl matches with the county's only electronic buzzer system. A four man starting squad consisting of Andy Brackin, Nancy Hughes, Dan Albert, and Sharon Presnell was chosen for the season. The remaining members were substitutes, and had a chance of challenging the starters for their positions. The excitement of the competitions increased, as the head-to-head contests appeared on television. The quest for victory and the spirit of competition thrust the team through the season with true "War Eagle Spirit." This newest team of the War Eagles demonstrated that notable achievement is possible via intellectual prowess as well as athletic ability. Organization and development of the group was spearheaded by coach Pat Freeman, with the aid of instructors Pat Cosby and Jim King.

Leaders Work to Organize Student Activities

Made up entirely of club presidents, the Inter-Club Council was an instrument of cooperation and good will throughout the school. Coordinating the activities of all the clubs and organizations of Astronaut was the primary function of the ICC. This systematization was achieved through the outlining of a monthly calendar of events, which enabled the clubs to schedule their various activities at non-conflicting times. In addition to this, they reviewed club constitutions in reference to sex discrimination. Jill Correll (top), SGA Vice-President, presided over ICC meetings.

Student Representatives Solve School Problems

"Did you buy your maroon War Eagle Pride button?" This phrase resounded as SGA members attempted to raise money for additions to the bus loop park. The elected members also succeeded in setting up a system for ranking students in the Senior Class. Dances and organizing the Homecoming Parade also demanded their time and energies.

Club Gives to Scholarship

Spirited members worked hard all year painting signs and serving the community. A first place trophy was a well deserved award in the sign painting contest between clubs for the Astronaut-Titusville football game.

Many money making projects were on Chi Kappa's agenda. A few of the projects included lollipop sales, dances and a concession stand at home basketball games. A good portion of the money was contributed to a scholarship in memory of Jerry Singer, the club's former sponsor.

From Pageants to Politics

"There she (he? it?) is, Miss Astroville . . ." The annual Miss Astroville Pageant, held by AXP in conjunction with Interact, was one of the most enjoyable events of the year. Interact members, dressed up as voluptuous females, entertained the audience with hilarious demonstrations of modeling and talent abilities. Contestants ranged from "Innocent Ida" to "Sexy Sadie."

A representative was sent by AXP to participate in Youth Legislature, a program held each January in Tallahassee, where high school students replaced elected officials in the Florida Senate and House of Representatives. To raise funds to finance the representative's weekend, the club held dances and sold mugs bearing the War Eagle Fight Song and emblem.

Key Club

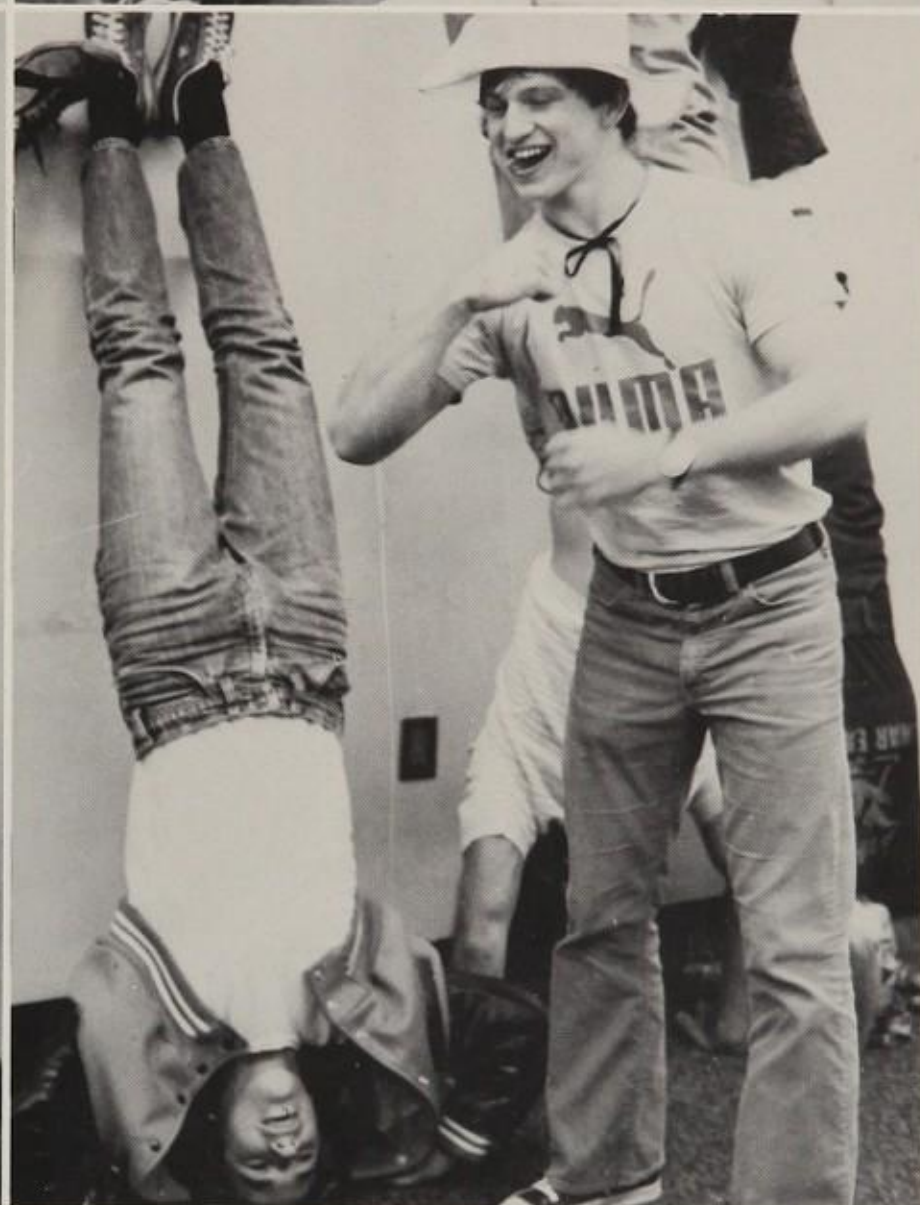

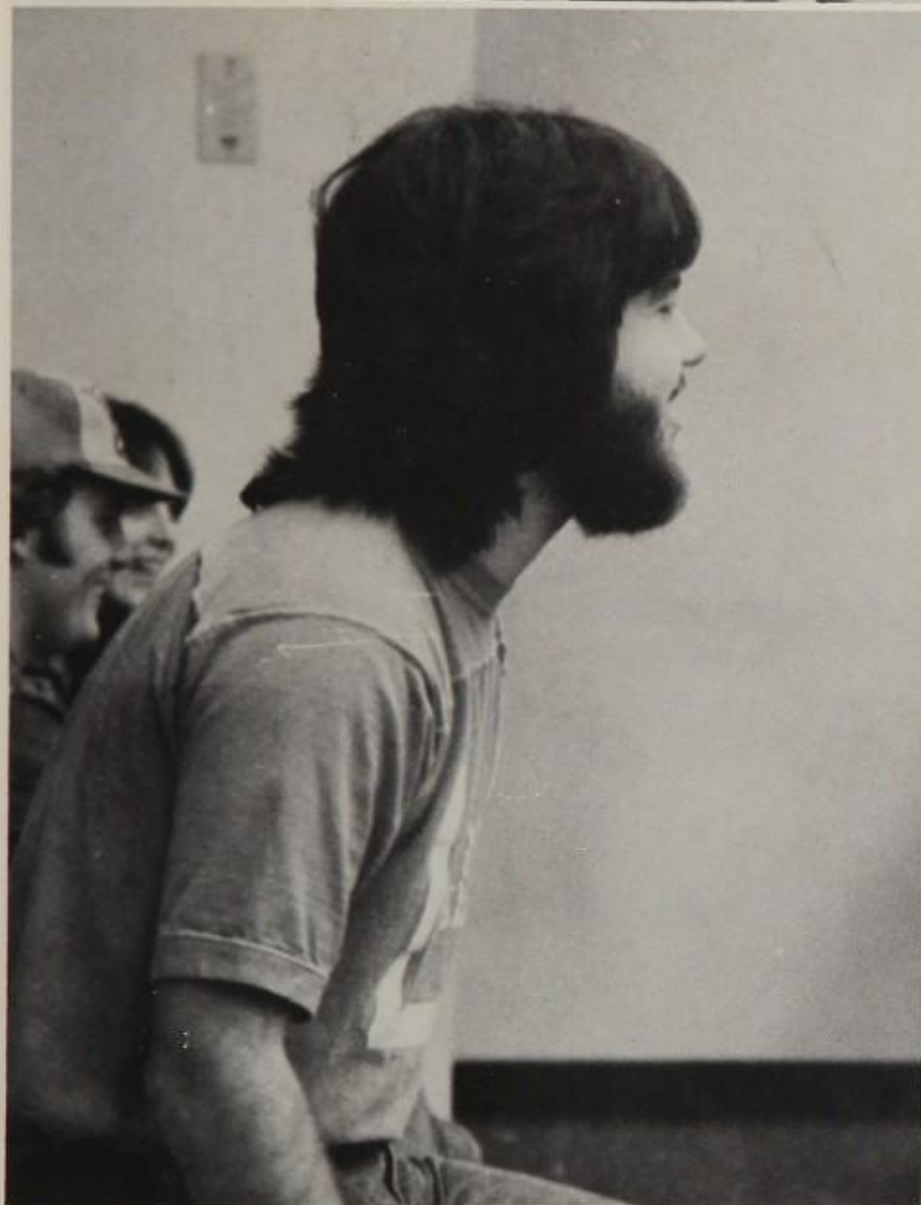

Keeping Cool Was the Key

Selling their Annual Halloween Insurance to protect the public from mischievous ghosts and goblins, the Key Club spent the following day cleaning lawns and homes. However, their first money raising project was a financial success.

On probation for a year, Key Club "kept its cool" in order to retain their charter. Sponsors Jim Pedersen and Wayne Johnston saw to it there were no initiation rites.

Unlocking the Door to Friendship

Vivacious members of Keyettes kept active throughout the year by providing services to the community and raising funds for various activities and charities. Among the most profitable money making projects were the car washes and dances. Funds were used to aid in school projects and needs, and a donation was made to the Multiple Sclerosis Society. As a service club, Keyettes contributed food to a needy family during Thanksgiving, made crafts for the Jr. Women's Club, and provided refreshments at volleyball games. Picnics and Christmas caroling with Interact, along with work projects planned with Key, were activities that were fun and useful. The enthusiasm of Keyettes was an asset to the school and community, and made the club an enjoyable one.

Always Lending a Hand

Visible at pep rallies and athletic events, Interact was always giving the Varsity Cheerleaders a hand in promoting spirit. Each week two members of Interact joined the Rotary Club Members at the Holiday Inn for lunch. This gave AHS club members more insight into community service organizations and their activities. Interact also assisted the YMCA by helping referee flag football games each Saturday morning for a six week period.

All Aboard for a Fun Filled Year

Slumber parties, club reunions, and making floats were enjoyed by all who belonged to the Anchor Club this year. Besides sharing good times together, they also indulged in working for others as well as educating themselves. Interesting and informative program meetings were held once a month to enlighten members on such subjects as women in the field of medicine.

Money making projects for service to the community included washing windows, holding bake sales and organizing a newspaper drive. Money earned was given to the Normandy School or was used in buying and reselling radio time for the promotion of A.H.S. basketball games.

Service With a Smile

One of the three Tri-Hi-Y service clubs, Alpha Omega started out this year by spending hard earned money on dictionaries for the English Department. Their next project involved hosting the pre-season Basketball Tournament, for which they set up a refreshment area for the visiting coaches. Community service was fulfilled at Christmas time with two activities that kept members busy. A party was thrown for the kids at Country Acres as a Christmas Celebration. Most members also caroled and brought presents to the residents of the Nursing Home, a project that was greatly appreciated.

Amanuenes Train for Business World

Secretarial interest was promoted by the members of the Future Secretaries Association. In order to acquaint them with office procedures, students were enrolled in business classes such as typing, shorthand, and accounting.

FSA members filled orders for senior announcements and delivered them to the graduating class as a prelude to competent business management.

Spirited Members Spread the Good News

Truly, truly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do, shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go to the Father.

John 14:12

Love for the Lord was the only requirement needed to be a CYF member. Ten minutes of song, prayer, and scripture were shared in the library each morning before school, letting all involved begin every day with a feeling of Christian communion. Monthly get-togethers included such activities as roasting hotdogs over a bonfire on Spider Island, making home-made ice cream, Christmas caroling, and holding a "Dessert Supper" to which each member brought a different delectable sweet.

Each morning I will look to you in Heaven and lay my requests before you praying earnestly.

Today . . . Chocolate Chip Cookies . . . Tomorrow . . . the World . . .

"A man may work from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done!" The job of homemaker is definitely a full time one, and FHA members trained for it as vigorously as for any career. They felt that the age of housewife drudgery had passed, and managing a household was an exciting challenge, requiring skill and perseverance to perfect.

Their remarkable culinary talents paid off at two bake sales, held to raise money for new equipment for the Home Economics Department. Handcraft and sewing skills were also profitable assets. Cloth flowers were sold by FHA members.

Of primary importance to the group was cultural and social enlightenment. They attended a performance at the dinner theater "Once Upon A Stage," and studied the traditional rules of etiquette.

If you are interested in learning more about social and cultural activities in other countries, then the Foreign Language Club is for you. One of the main events attended by all the members, along with any students who had a foreign language class, was the annual International Dinner. Dishes from various foreign countries were prepared by members and exchanged at the banquet. Other plans included a trip to River Country at Walt Disney World, eating at a French restaurant, and having picnics together.

Emergency!!

"Calling Dr. Kildare, calling Dr. Kildare, to the Emergency Room immediately . . ." Students lured by the fervor of hospital activity joined HCC to get an inside view of medical careers. Working at Jess Parrish Memorial allowed members to be involved in the action, and to learn about standard techniques and equipment. To qualify for a hospital job each member had to complete a series of courses and pass a difficult test.

Since every HCC member had a personal interest in pursuing a medical career, the group had an extra sense of enthusiasm which made them an asset to the hospital and the community.

Scoring Points for God

Fellowship with others and striving for a deeper Christian understanding in athletics and school were the main objectives of FCA. In February, members organized a one-day retreat, held at Park Avenue Baptist Church, where coaches from the University of Florida and Florida State University were guest speakers.

In January, FCA elected its leaders for the 1977-78 school year. This gave newly-elected officers the advantage of having experienced people available for assistance, and gave Senior officers a chance to relax!

Community Service Highlights Year

In association with the American University of Women, this service club was an asset to the school and the community. With their sponsors, Barbara Williamson and Nedra Blum, they made many contributions such as decorating the Titusville Nursing Home at Christmas and setting up concession stands at swim meets. The members also organized a bookfair in cooperation with the A.U.W.

"Working Their Way Through School"

Marketing, merchandising, and management were the three M's of Distributive Education. Students planning to pursue careers in sales or business management joined the DE program to acquire the necessary basics. Two hours each day were spent in individual study of business math, English, organization and other employability skills. Many local businessmen contributed training manuals for the benefit of students planning to join their companies.

After fourth period all Distributive Education students left school to work at a job relating to sales or management. The program permitted career bound students to gain on the job practice and knowledge. Talents acquired from Distributive Education classes promised to be invaluable in forming the futures of participants.

Earn, Learn and Have Fun

Diversity — this was the goal toward which DCT students labored. They studied various skills necessary in life, such as consumer economics, money management, and employability skills. After fourth period each day, they gained actual job experience by leaving school to attend a regular job, ranging from waitress to ranch hand.

All Diversified Cooperative Training students were members of the DCT Club. They participated in employability skills competitions, had monthly bowling parties and breakfasts, and held an Employer/Employee Banquet to end the successful year.

Spikers Net a Third in State - Girls Continue War Eagle Success

Greatly improved from last year, the volleyball team's sensational season was highlighted by their win over 1975 Cape Coast Conference champs, Cocoa Beach. Their win gave them the 1976 Cape Coast Conference title, along with a 9-1 record, and sent them into the District playoffs. Termed a darkhorse at the season's beginning, the War Eagles proved otherwise. They swept the District title and advanced to Regional play, where they defeated 3A foe Gainesville Bucholz in straight sets, and gained a berth in the State tournament. Finishing third in State competition, the team began a tradition of volleyball excellence for War Eagle boosters to look forward to in the years to come.

Key to the State Play-Offs - Perfect Shooting, Dribbling, Passing

Astro's Cagers were ranked number one in the pre-season polls. A much improved squad began with four returning starters from the '76 State runner-up team. The "behind the scene" men, Bill Paisley and Mike O'Neill, kept the team running smoothly and were a credit to the organization. The Cagerettes kept statistics and cookies handy for their men. Coaches John Davenport and Greg Hostetler worked hard to increase the skills necessary among individuals.

Girls Basketball

"It's How You Play the Game . . ."

It's not if you win or lose, but how you play the game, and this year's Girls Basketball Team made up for the lack of points on the scoreboard with their skill and co-ordination on the court. Outstanding varsity players were Kim Hall, who lead the team in scoring, and Doris Mitchell, who obtained the most rebounds. Sindee Snow lead the JV Team by attaining the most points. All in all, it was a year of experience and establishing a foundation for a sound team to come.

Mighty Grapplers Start Season With Intensity

Strenuous matches revealed the strength, endurance, and coordination of Astro's wrestlers. They started their best season ever, which included beating Titusville High School, 30-21 and placing second in the Cape Coast Conference. To determine which team wins a match, an accumulation of points are earned by a pin, decision, or forfeit. The hard work during practice sessions of the coaches Ron Hirst and Philip Edwards, along with the aid of the Wrestlerettes, paid off well.

Keeping up with the accomplishments of the upper classmen was not easy for the younger matmen, but they went through the season in winning form. Their promising success as Varsity Wrestlers will keep the Cape Coast Conference Championship at AHS.

Promising Young War Eagles

By introducing another team for both football and basketball, more young men were able to participate and gain experience for their later years at AHS. The ninth graders competed with other junior and senior high schools which also had freshman teams.

Batter Up!

Strike one . . . strike two . . . strike three — you're OUT!!! Of course, the entire season wasn't that easy or that lucky, but the AHS Softball Team did provide a few surprises. Hard practices, instructed by coach Jeanne Andrews, paid off. When the bases were loaded and two outs stared the team straight in the face, fans could depend on Coach Andrews to yell a few encouraging words and when the gallon of sweat beads saturated her suit, tears of joy evaporated from her flushed cheeks, and she had made her victorious romp across the field on the sagging shoulders of her faithful team, you'd be sure to see her passed out on the deserted bench.

Hot to Trot

No matter how high others jumped, ran, or threw, Astronaut 1977 Track and Field team was always among the best competitors in the state. After a State Championship season in 1976, the War Eagles tried to make it two-in-a-row.

Second Season Brought Brighter Outlook

Although this was the girls' second season, according to Coach Nancy Roberts it still was a "learning year." A young squad, with many old and new faces, made up the field of competitors for the Girls Track Team.

Repeats, sprints, and long distance work were a regular routine during the long hours of practice. The chance to represent Astronaut in competition with other schools was quite a thrilling experience for all the girls.

Splashing to a Victory

Starting in October with a six week clinic which helped new swimmers learn the strokes, the AHS Swim Team "dived" into the season. A Swim-A-Thon in November was extremely successful. Raising $1100, the team was able to purchase new suits, a diving board, and other swim needs. Seasonal practice began in the chill of January. In spite of cold, hard practices and getting home to supper late, all was worth it in anticipation of the state meet in Gainesville.

Racketeers Net Victories

Few experienced veterans and a new girls' coach, Evelyn Clark, composed the Astronaut '77 boys' and girls' tennis teams. Both teams expected a good year with the season improving as more experience was gained. Johanna Hall, an eleventh grader, began the season in the top girls' spot. A ninth grader, Scott Zaccaria, was the number one male player. Coach Mike Hocht returned as coach for his fifth year.

Mr. C. Is Great All-Around

Working closely with students, teachers and Brevard County School Board, Principal Abe Collinsworth kept the school divided by classes but united in spirit. He showed his enthusiasm for the younger generation by being visible at all activities. Mr. C. is quite a man.

Ass't Principals: Doubletime Duty

Super-school AHS is too large for one administrator to handle all of the work. So, the Assistant Principals took care of the overload. At some time or other, every club president arranged activities with the aid of Mr. Nathan Brown, or "Doc." Offering a more varied choice of classes, the curriculum was improved with the help of Mr. Don Brown, who worked closely with the guidance staff and faculty.

Both assistant principals spent eight- to ten-hour days organizing their energies for numerous responsibilities. An up-to-date school calendar was maintained, and the use of school buildings properly sanctioned. Any unused time was spent solving minor crises, talking with students, or joking in the halls.

Helping Students Is a Full-Time Job

Students with problems such as the choice of courses, interpretation of test scores, and schedule conflicts were the main target of the enthusiastic Guidance Department. To help guide one into a suitable college or vocation, "College Career Night" was set up in conjunction with Titusville High School. This program was designed to offer the varied choices available for a lifetime career.

Other personnel, Diana Barnhart, Mark Charron, and Nick Gailey were always ready to help an individual with personal problems and everyday life.

Clerical Staff

People "Behind the Scenes" Important to Astronaut

What would we have done without the Clerical Staff? By typing, running errands, taking attendance, and preparing materials for faculty use, each lent a helping hand to keep our school running smoothly and efficiently under any and all conditions.

Astronaut Is a "Shining" Example of Maintenance

Working hard, these men and women have kept AHS shining. They've spent many hours during and after school cleaning up behind faculty and students. These extraordinary people have kept our school looking sensational inside and out.

Library Is Open to Students' Needs

Astro's Librarians continued to do a great job in keeping our Library a vital part of the school. They provided new and interesting books, not to mention the many magazines, newspapers and filmstrips. They maintained an informative media center which was readily available to all students.

Women's Lib in P.E. and Men's, Too!

Women's equal rights movements affected Astro's Physical Education Department. A conditioning and fitness class involving weightlifting and distance running became available to girls, after five years of being on the boy's curriculum only. Teacher, Jeanne Andrews', rigorous workouts aroused some complaints from the girls, but the course was a popular one, said to "make you feel healthy."

Males also made "equality" advancements in the P.E. area. Gymnastics, long a female-oriented sport, attracted nearly twenty boys into its program. Teacher, Nancy Roberts, enjoyed having boys in her classes, and felt gymnastics developed strength and flexibility, along with self-discipline.

Girls lifting weights, men doing splits — the "Battle of the Sexes" rages on!

Math Club Begun

Organizing a new club was first on the agenda for the Math Department. Mu Alpha Theta, an honorary math club, got its start just in time for Homecoming and participated with a spirit car. Raising money to help better equip the Math Department was a primary concern throughout the year.

Mad Scientists Mix Learning With Laughing

Dissecting cats may not be your idea of fun, but Jim Pederson's Physiology classes sent plenty of laughter into the halls while they studied feline and human anatomy. Memorizing the location and function of 95 muscles was made bearable by the prospect of the annual Christmas Cat-Dressing Contest, in which each group entered their costumed cat in competition for best-dressed. The result — a macabre and hilarious show!

Teacher, Wayne Johnston, may be the only man around whose drawl can make one word last five minutes, but he talked fast enough to teach a lot of useful Biology to his students. Fred Johnson readied his classes for college Chemistry courses, as preparation for further education was a main objective of the Science Department.

This year the Science Department established a scholarship in memory of former Physics teacher, Jerry Singer. The fund was begun through faculty, student, and community donations. Like Science, the scholarship will be a continual aid to AHS students.

Mankind Studied

Heritage, Constitution, Revolution — these were the concepts on which the Social Studies program was based. Problems which have faced our nation were analyzed in American History. Differences and difficulties between Democratic and Communist methods of government were searched in Comparative Political Systems, or C.P.S. Psychology courses included discussions on self-understanding and life in our society. A major purpose of Social Studies classes was to prepare students for solving future problems through reason and intelligence, while knowledge of past mistakes and successes would aid as examples.

Advanced Courses Prepare Students for Life

Budding student poets, spokesmen, and novelists developed their skills through the talented English Department personnel. These instructors managed to teach the basics of grammar and composition, often hiding them in such astute course titles as "World Lit." and "American Lit."

Humanities, taught by Pat Freeman, covered three main areas: philosophy, art, and music. The students enrolled in this more advanced class prepared for college by undergoing rigorous tests that often included identifying a piece of music by listening to it.

Vocabulary was stressed in Reading for Speed and Understanding, and was proven to be useful in taking standardized tests.

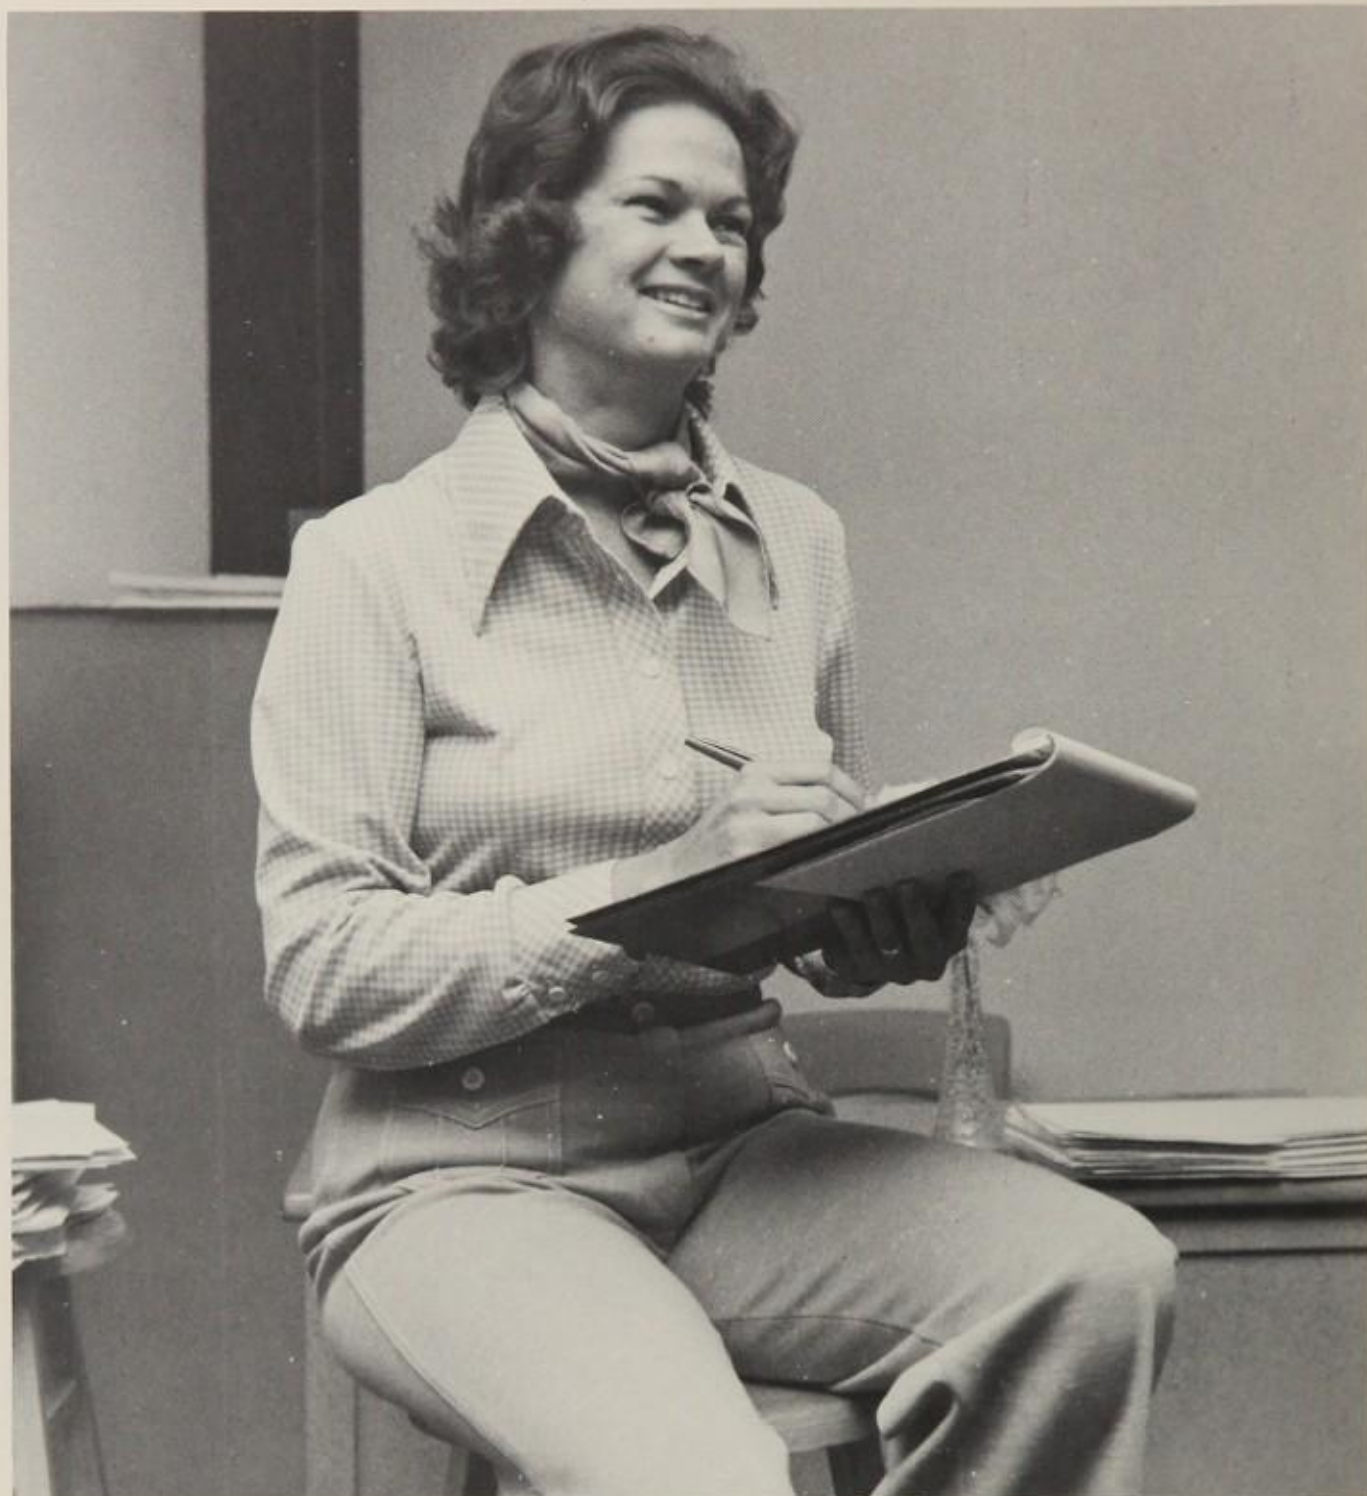

The up-to-date English Department had something novel to interest most students. From publications to British Lit., a world of knowledge promised to become useful for coming years.

Unique Abilities Prove Worthwhile With Fine Arts

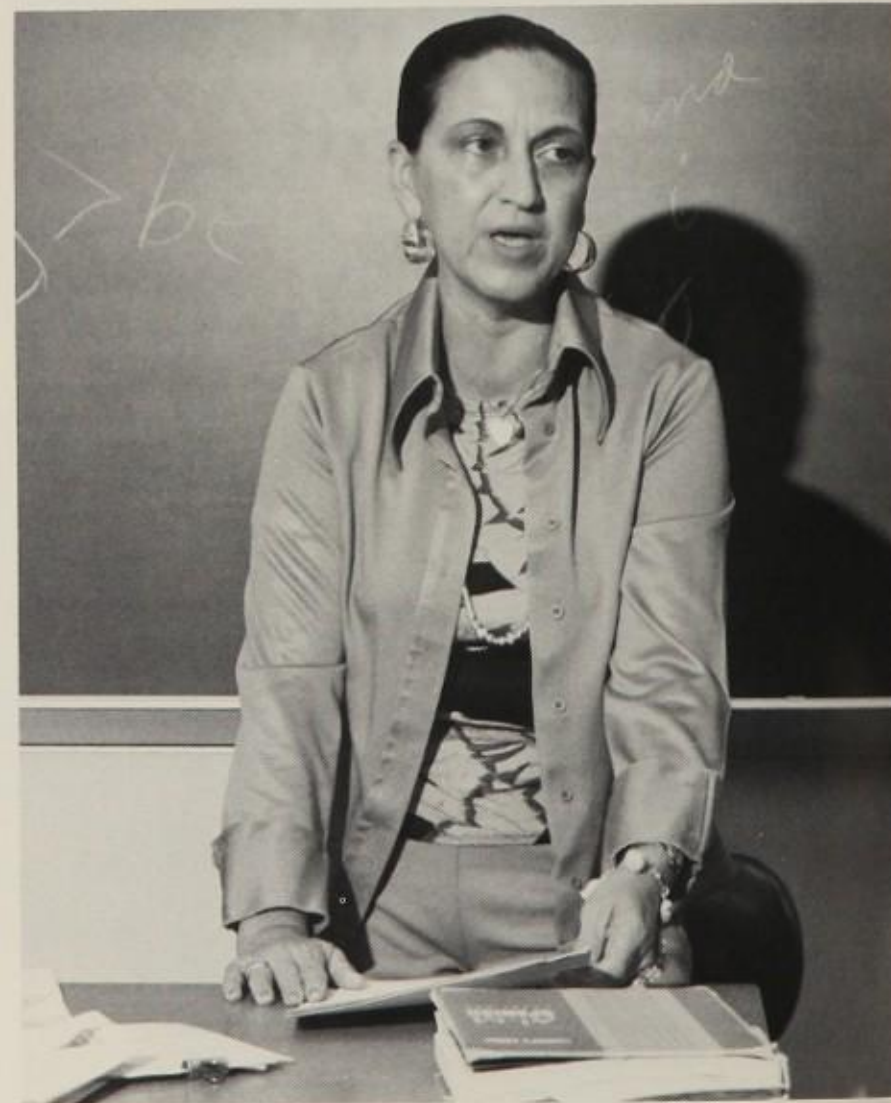

Students at Astronaut were guided through art, music and the medias. Band members were taught to communicate through the music by Ken Nickse; and, the singers of the school blended their voices together under the direction of Delores Ellis. Art students used their imagination with Brenda Pittman and Bob Netherton supervising. John Bonggren and Michael Lipe expressed their talents in Mass Media and Film Theory.

Foreign Language Flows Over Communication Barrier

"Si, oui, da" echoed its way through the Foreign Language Department when students were asked if they enjoyed the classes offered. Available were Spanish, French, and German courses. Actual accents were impressed upon students through the use of recently purchased listening equipment. One direct result of this affected all students when their former club meeting place became unavailable to large group gatherings. Another departmental undertaking was the yearly trip to St. Augustine. Students participating gained greater knowledge of Spanish culture while enjoying a day off from routine schoolwork.

A Secretary's Work Is Never Done

"A, S, D, F . . . J, K, L, semi-colon!" Beginning Typing students got use to hearing this dictated to them time after time by teacher, Jane Harris, to teach proper finger position on the keys. When this had been mastered, the class worked on timed typing, the purpose being to correctly type as much as possible in a five minute time period. Form and punctuation of letters and documents was studied. Students were relieved when they were allowed to correct typographical errors made on their work. It made for a lot fewer red marks on their graded papers!

Earlean Glenn guided future secretaries through the confusing field of shorthand symbols. Shorthand skills were valued highly by those who benefitted from them in the areas of job-hunting and class note-taking.

Skills leading into various careers were studied and perfected in Vocational Education courses. Obtaining excellent background information and experience from these classes, participants were supplied with a head start in the job-hunting race. Drafting, Home Economics, Child Care, Accounting, Bookkeeping, and Shop were programs from which vocation-bound students benefitted highly.

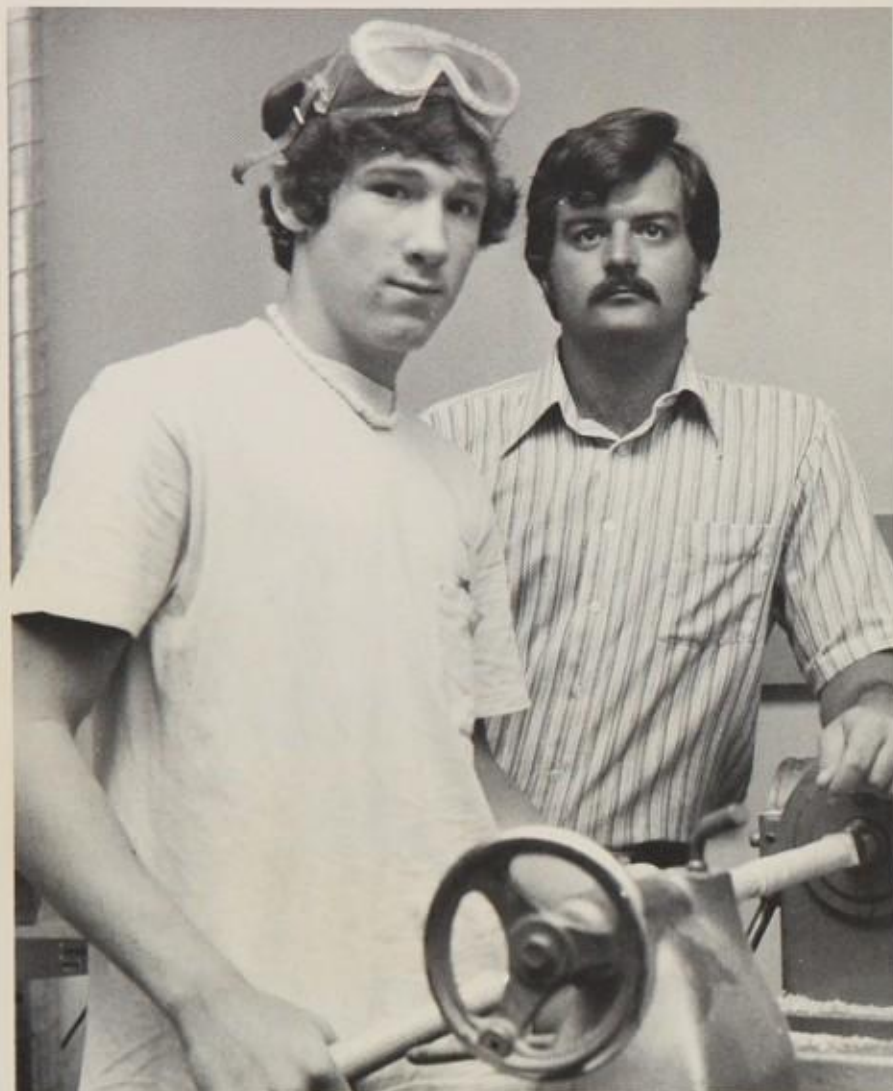

Students were able to gain actual job experience through programs in which they could leave school early to work at an approved job, where the student was continually employed. The hours worked by students under this program were counted as hours spent in elective classes. So, while acquiring experience and money, they were also gaining school credits.

Watch Out!

CAUTION! Nervous student driver at the wheel. Slow drivers, speeding drivers, daredevils and accident-prone beginners — Tom Orsini and Roy Ball kept cool through it all. It was claimed that Mr. Orsini, when faced with the peril of colliding with an oncoming car in the same lane, smiled and said to the girl driving, "What are you going to do?" She never heard the question through the screams of the other two students in the car! Mr. Ball revealed that his secret for staying calm involved great self-control, straight thinking, and much covering of his eyes.

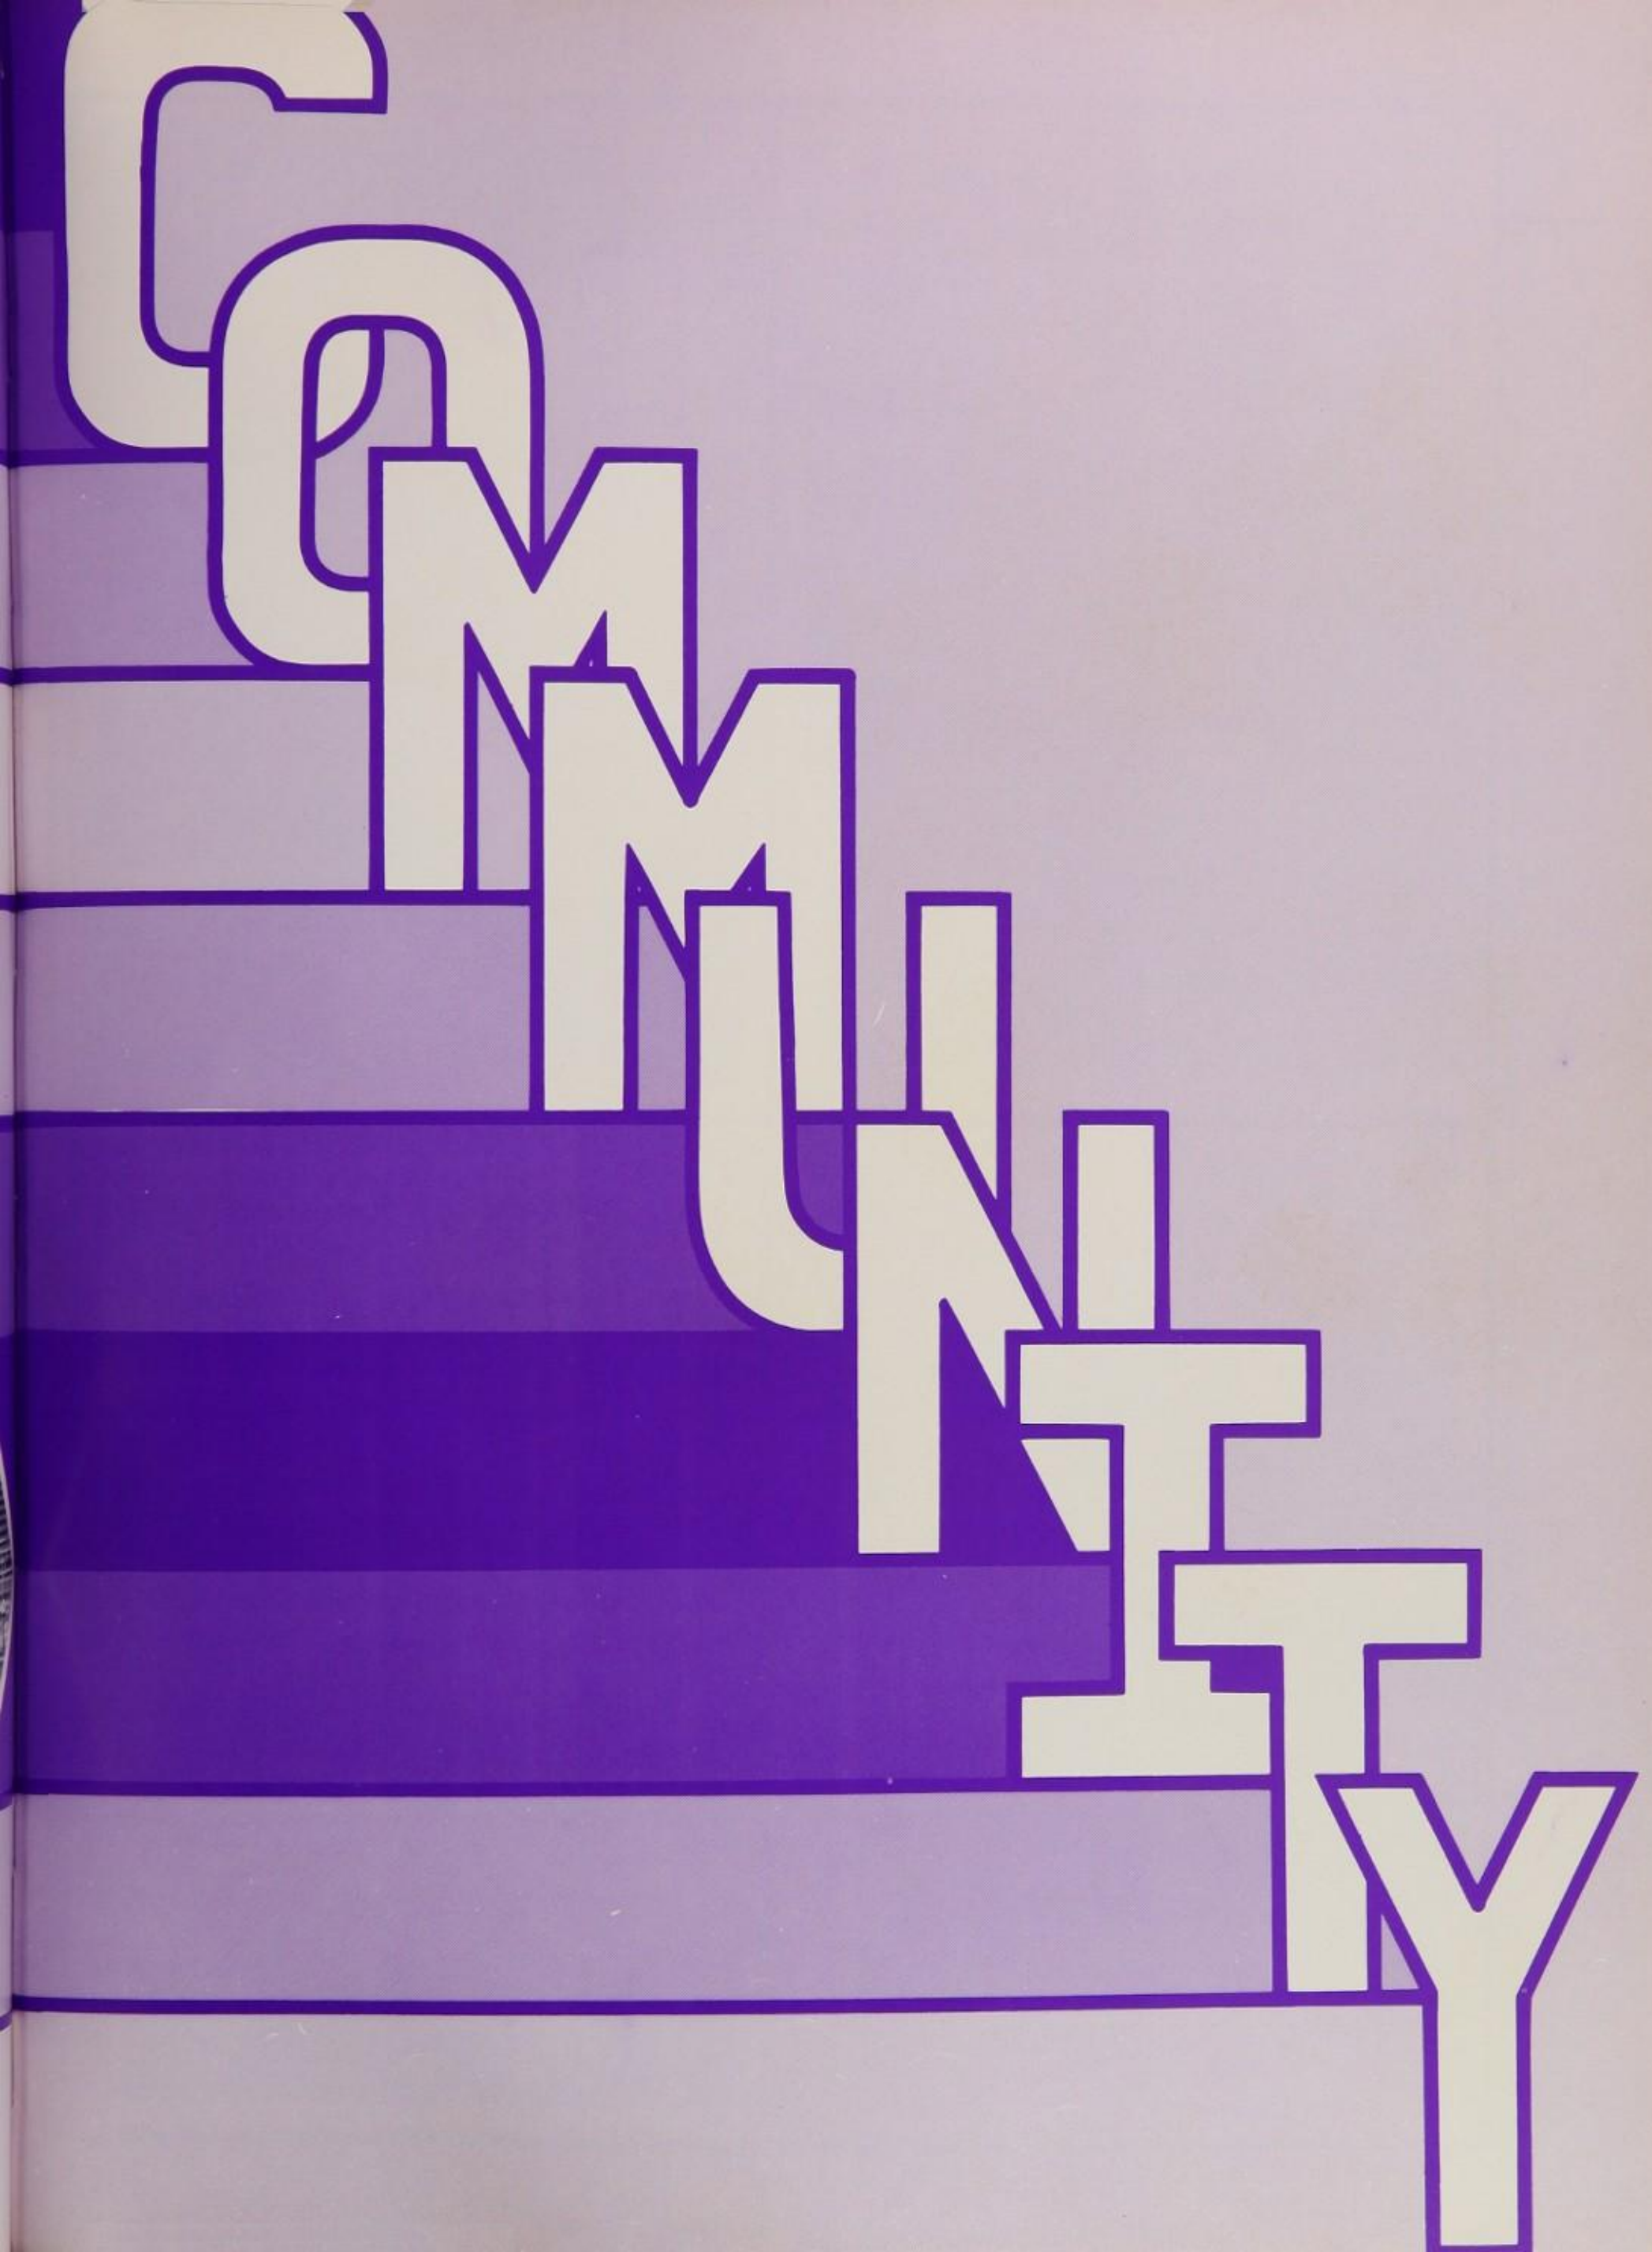

Out on the Driving Range, where students practiced parallel parking and various maneuvers through mazes of traffic cones, Bob Pracek guided drivers with a walkie-talkie system picked up by each car's radio. Unless, of course, the driver was listening to WKKO!

NJROTC instructed members in discipline and traditional standards of behavior and excellence. Marching drills and weapon-handling were an important part of the program. Headed by James Fiveash and Brent Bushong, NJROTC gave students valuable experience for later use in military careers.

SURVIVAL CRAFT

Safer, faster, more maneuverable, more comfortable in stress and fully approved by all leading classification societies

Safety at sea with Watercraft

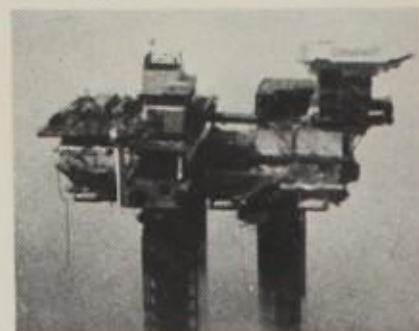

Embarkation & launch.
Embarkation of personnel is smooth and quick. Watercraft modules are designed with two large hatches on each side, which permit all passengers to be seated, strapped in and ready for lowering; hatches closed and engine running within 60 seconds.

The launch of the vessel can be started and stopped from within the craft to allow pickup of passengers at lower levels. Descent is fully controllable, from 0 to 120 feet per minute. The craft is suspended from two lines so it cannot spin, and the bow direction at touchdown is the same as it was when descent began. The two suspension cables are wrapped around twin drums which rotate on a single axle, making an unbalanced launch impossible, and final release of the vessel is accomplished with one motion of a positive mechanical release lever inside the craft.

The lever cannot be thrown accidentally, nor will it jam, even after exposure to the elements of the sea winds for any number of years. Above all, the launching system of an escape module must be dependable. Only Watercraft's is, as you'll note when you compare it with any other.

Speed, maneuverability & stability.
There's no question about the fact that a Watercraft module is different and the basic difference is obvious at a glance: it's boat-shaped. It's simply a matter of the fact that a boat-shaped device handles better in the water than any other, which is the reason that boats—and Watercraft—are designed as they are: it's a matter of stability and maneuverability and speed, all vital to crew safety, particularly in the first most dangerous minutes in the water. No other survival craft can match Watercraft's speedy 7.2 knots, nor is any other craft self-righting by nature. Because of its design, it is actually impossible for the craft to remain upside down in the water.
